

TURKEY SEASONAL FORECAST FOR JJA-2010

JJA -2010 2m Seasonal Temperature Anomaly Forecast for Turkey:

According to the ECMWF forecast, Turkey will have a bit warmer period than normal. The south part of Turkey will be warmer than north part. In JJA-2010, seasonal 2m temperature anomaly forecast shows that Turkey will have positive anomaly which varies from 0,5 C° to 1.7 C°.

JJA -2010 2m Seasonal Precipitation Anomaly Forecast for Turkey:

In JJA 2010, Turkey will have dry condition when ECMWF forecast is used. The most decreases in seasonal total precipitation will be expected over north east part of Turkey. Generally, The North and the Center part of Turkey will be dryer than West and South coastal regions and Southeast part of Turkey. The seasonal total precipitation anomaly forecast ranges from 1.0 mm/month to -18.5 mm/month for Turkey.