

A review of the climate condition over Armenia during summer 2014

Summer was hot, in particular the second half of the season, and the average temperature exceeded the normal values by 2 degree (Figure 1a). Total precipitation was lower than seasonal normal amount (Figure 1b).

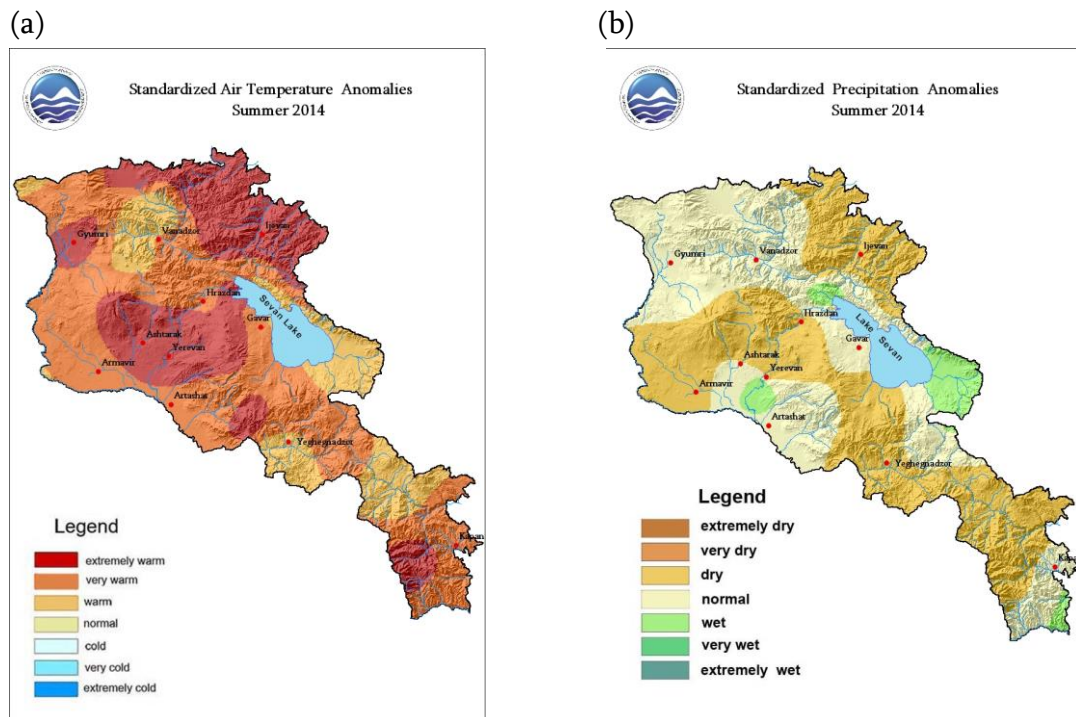

Figure 1. Anomalies of seasonal temperature (a) and precipitation (b) in summer 2014 over Armenia